The Minnesota Food Charter Food Access Planning Guide provides tools, resources, proven policy strategies, and recommended planning and zoning language for comprehensive plans. With these tools, planners and community food advocates can collaborate to design communities that promote access to healthy, safe, affordable food.

Intended Impacts:
- Provides an overview of local food systems and planning
- Provides tools and resources to support healthy food access within planning and zoning policies

Related Food Charter Strategies:
- Include healthy food access as an important component of local governments’ overall planning
- Ensure adequate resources for public/private partnerships that support pollinator health
- Implement farmland-access recommendations
